

Maidstone Canoe Club History in Film and Photos

Maidstone Canoe Club
Mill Meadow Wharf, St Peter St.,
Maidstone
5th February 2013
7.30pm

An evening of Club History with moving film and slide presentations by Michael Passmore (past President), Ian Bourn (founder member), and Paul Newman (longest serving member).

This has to be a MUST for all club members!

Find out how the club was formed, our old Club premises, on water and land, and see the paddling of the past.

An evening of entertainment to brighten the dark nights of February.

£2.00 per head with refreshments
Space limited to thirty members, so book with Paul Newman

The Medway Valley During the Roman Occupation

Maidstone Canoe Club
Mill Meadow Wharf, St Peter St.,
Maidstone
24th January 2013
7.30pm

Why the River Medway was so vital as a transport route for industry and enterprise. Simon is a local historian studying a Phd at the University of Kent, in Archaeology and has uncovered a rich landscape of quarries, villas, weirs and locks. His detailed analysis of the Medway valley is a valued addition to our knowledge of the area.

£2.00 per head with refreshments

The Medway Valley During the Roman Occupation

Maidstone Canoe Club
Mill Meadow Wharf, St Peter St.,
Maidstone
24th January 2013
7.30pm

Why the River Medway was so vital as a transport route for industry and enterprise. Simon is a local historian studying a Phd at the University of Kent, in Archaeology and has uncovered a rich landscape of quarries, villas, weirs and locks. His detailed analysis of the Medway valley is a valued addition to our knowledge of the area.

£2.00 per head with refreshments

The Medway Valley During the Roman Occupation

Maidstone Canoe Club
Mill Meadow Wharf, St Peter St.,
Maidstone
24th January 2013
7.30pm

Why the River Medway was so vital as a transport route for industry and enterprise. Simon is a local historian studying a Phd at the University of Kent, in Archaeology and has uncovered a rich landscape of quarries, villas, weirs and locks. His detailed analysis of the Medway valley is a valued addition to our knowledge of the area.

£2.00 per head with refreshments

The Medway Valley During the Roman Occupation

Maidstone Canoe Club
Mill Meadow Wharf, St Peter St.,
Maidstone
24th January 2013
7.30pm

Why the River Medway was so vital as a transport route for industry and enterprise. Simon is a local historian studying a Phd at the University of Kent, in Archaeology and has uncovered a rich landscape of quarries, villas, weirs and locks. His detailed analysis of the Medway valley is a valued addition to our knowledge of the area.

£2.00 per head with refreshments

The Medway Valley During the Roman Occupation

Maidstone Canoe Club
Mill Meadow Wharf, St Peter St.,
Maidstone
24th January 2013
7.30pm

Why the River Medway was so vital as a transport route for industry and enterprise. Simon is a local historian studying a Phd at the University of Kent, in Archaeology and has uncovered a rich landscape of quarries, villas, weirs and locks. His detailed analysis of the Medway valley is a valued addition to our knowledge of the area.

£2.00 per head with refreshments

The Medway Valley During the Roman Occupation

Maidstone Canoe Club
Mill Meadow Wharf, St Peter St.,
Maidstone
24th January 2013
7.30pm

Why the River Medway was so vital as a transport route for industry and enterprise. Simon is a local historian studying a Phd at the University of Kent, in Archaeology and has uncovered a rich landscape of quarries, villas, weirs and locks. His detailed analysis of the Medway valley is a valued addition to our knowledge of the area.

£2.00 per head with refreshments

The Medway Valley During the Roman Occupation

Maidstone Canoe Club
Mill Meadow Wharf, St Peter St.,
Maidstone
24th January 2013
7.30pm

Why the River Medway was so vital as a transport route for industry and enterprise. Simon is a local historian studying a Phd at the University of Kent, in Archaeology and has uncovered a rich landscape of quarries, villas, weirs and locks. His detailed analysis of the Medway valley is a valued addition to our knowledge of the area.

£2.00 per head with refreshments